Paying Back to the Nation

From a modest beginning over five decades ago, today the Army Welfare Trust has a diverse business spectrum spread all over Pakistan, where its 20 business units have become a shining example of good practices and setting a role model of honest business that can thrive in any environment.

The story of AWT is that of resilience and commitment. It is a story of achievements and of having complete faith in the abilities of those manning it with devotion, integrity and passion. The journey it has trodden so far has not been without challenges and has given it resilience and the resolve never to submit in the face of adversity. It has also strengthened our belief that our employees are our most precious asset that are second to none. The values and business ethics we espouse are to compete, to excel and to contribute. Our greatest satisfaction, however, is the raison d'etre for establishment of AWT - to play a noble role in the welfare and rehabilitation of the families of Shuhada & the NOKs of those who lay their lives in the defense of the motherland. In the recent past, AWT has broken all previous records of its contribution for the welfare of Pakistan Army by contributing manifold.

AWT also takes pride in playing a leading role in the national social and economic fabric by providing jobs to a large number of people and contributing a sizeable amount to the National Exchequer. Presently, AWT has undergone a transformational process and chartered a new course to attain newer heights by steering purposefully. AWT is now all set to venture into new projects by collaborating with leading domestic as well as international partners. With the commitment of our entire team and with Allah's blessings, AWT looks forward to bracing additional milestones of success in the near as well as distant future.

Inspiring • Dedicated • Upright

I am pleased to congratulate the entire team of Army Welfare Trust making the historic turn-around and coming up to the expectations of the Army. AWT after transactions, divestments, acquisition and further developments is fully stabilized to move on the road of growth in real business sense.

With Allah's blessings, undeterred by challenges on the domestic front, AWT is all set to take new initiatives of expansion and growth by collaborating with local and international groups to further increase its role for the welfare of the Pakistan Army. Already some of the vital initiatives taken by the management in the recent past have helped AWT to move ahead with a new vision of improvement in business activity.

I also take this opportunity to congratulate AWT for increasing its contributions for welfare purposes on regular basis despite facing daunting challenges in its most recent history. Setting High Standard of Growth & Welfare

Q&A Session with Managing Director, Army Welfare Trust

Sir, would you like to share the success story of AWT corporate businesses i.e. its achievements spanning over fifty years of its establishment?

AWT was established in 1971, with an initial contribution of PKR 0.7 Million only. The noble mission was contribution towards the 'welfare and rehabilitation of the ex-servicemen, shuhada and their wards'. This mission informs our every business choice and practice. AWT, like any corporate house, has had an interesting journey. At the portfolio level, we have a very diverse presence in various key sectors. AWT has established strong footprints in insurance, manufacturing, energy, real estate, security, aviation, hospitality and medical sectors. It is a pioneer in Basic Pharma and has the proud history of establishing Askari Bank.

Our main contribution, which has often gone unrecognized, has been the nurturing and building of corporate resources in the north by opening the head office in Rawalpindi. This initiative became a catalyst for others to follow. Today, after 5 decades, our market value is in excess of Rs 60 Billion with a family count of more than 30,000 and continuing.

As MD how have you been able to contribute for the AWT so far?

When I joined AWT, I found it financially stable and functionally well organized. I laid particular emphasis on focused trainings for capacity enhancement and operational competitiveness.

Being a modern day business house, AWT is moving from using IT to integrating IT into its business processes, product & service design and delivery. From implementation of SAP as a corporate platform, AWT is aggressively incorporating specific business APPS to create access and ease for the customers. It goes without saying how data mining will assist us in improving our product/services and their delivery in the future.

In the medium to long term, my desire is to take this organization to the next level of size and excellence. Therefore, we are focusing on scalable and long term options by taking various initiatives in real estate, insurance and health sector.

I am happy to share that AWT has been able to post a double digit growth in the last year inspite of pandemic challenges. This has been made possible due to hard work and dedicated effort of team AWT. Despite macroeconomic instability, we have set a healthy growth target for the ongoing financial year and are well on the path to achieve it.

How much employment is provided by AWT and the role it is playing in human resource development for corporate sector of Pakistan?

AWT's current employee strength is around 30,000 including ex-servicemen (officers & soldiers) and civilian professionals. Being a market player in almost all of the business sectors of Pakistan, AWT is providing platform for individuals to groom their expertise in almost all of the core functions of any organization. AWT provides growing career opportunities to the young/fresh and experienced professional human resource. Apart from HR contribution, we have a vibrant and progressive organizational development & training program. AWT has introduced a structured MTO initiative to facilitate the newly graduated.

Sir, how do you see the future outlook of AWT as well as the economy of Pakistan, keeping in view the rocky economic path of past 75 years?

I am confident than ever that AWT is on the right path and its various investments and business units are poised for long term success. InshaAllah.

We are in times when world is going through a challenging phase starting from COVID 19 to an abrupt Ukraine conflict and now Pakistan is facing unprecedented flooding and more than 30 Million lives have been affected which will take significant time to recover but Change is the only Constant and inshahAllah Pakistan will come out of this difficult phase too. My appeal to every Pakistani in business and other roles is to personally work for enhancing his productivity. It is only through this collective contribution that Pakistan can meet up the challenge.

Sir, how successful is AWT venture with ExxonMobil in Pakistan

Large corporate powerhouses enrich the local environment and introduce world class business practices and technologies. To better appreciate this, one can see the role of CITI Bank in Pakistan and that of SIEMENNS in Engineering and Medical projects.

ExxonMobil is such a giant in gas, energy and allied sectors. Our story begins in the year 1996 when a joint venture with ExxonMobil was executed in the Lube sector. This venture gained a significant share in the automotive & industrial lubricant sector.

In 2007, as part of its global strategy ExxonMobil was exiting direct presence and AWT took over the company. It was an honor for AWT that MAL Pakistan is successfully representing the TM Exxon for a decade and a half and is now one of the Eight Global JVs of ExxonMobil Corporation. As a trust on the capacity and business integrity of MAL and AWT the Exxon has appointed MAL as their regional distributor for Pakistan and Afghanistan in the chemical sector.

AWT has retained and expended the presence this global brand in Pakistan by increasing its market share, which is testimony to the capacity and competitive spirit of our team.

Being the head of a corporate conglomerate, how do you define corporate leadership for young professionals and its role in the growth of corporate sector?

Leadership has been one of my favourite topics since the beginning of my soldiering life. Not only have i read about it extensively but i have had the opportunity to live by it and practice it throughout my career, leading many a great men and being in various leadership roles. In my opinion, leadership shares a common ground in both soldiering and business. At the end of the day, it revolves around the human factor, rather than on lavish equipment and gadgets. Therefore, the ability to work with others is important, while freeing oneself from arrogance through humility. It will help you understand your own abilities and limitations and build trust between the leader and the led. At the same time, develop empathy and compassion that will help you create strong teams. Continuous learning guarantees growth and hence I would advise all young professionals to read and increase their knowledge bank. Biographies and memoires are particularly beneficial to understand human nature and behaviour. With the right information and consequent experience, you will develop the necessary tools to tackle any leadership role.

Serving with innovation and passion

Our mission is to generate maximum revenue to contribute towards welfare & rehabilitation requirements of the Army through profitable commercial activities. In the recent past, a lot has changed at AWT for the better.

Following the strategic transactions, AWT has almost completed the consolidation phase and is steadily moving on its carefully chalked out "Way Forward", evolved through extensive discussions and brainstorming with the Business Units, Professionals and the Board of Directors. The future vision is aimed at balancing growth opportunities and investment returns while continuously seeking to improve operational Standards, competitiveness and innovation. AWT continues to invest in and maintain a dynamic Human Resources and Technology.

AWT is in the process of consolidating its Insurance holdings and revitalizing the Real Estate Sector. The newly constructed Askari Corporate Tower is a State-of-the- art mega project on the Main Boulevard at Gulberg, Lahore. We remain focused on our primary objective of maximizing profit to contribute for the welfare of Shuhada's families.

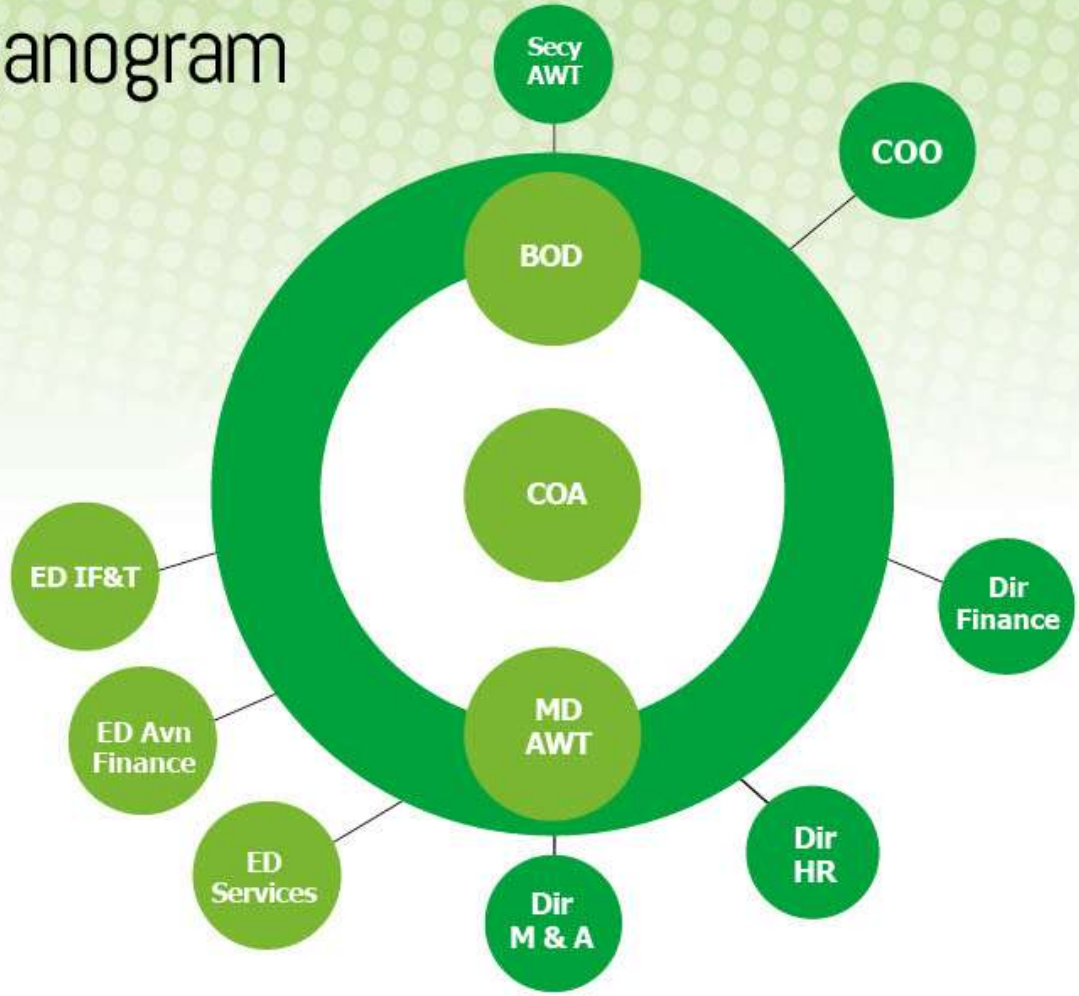

The management is fully determined to expand the business while ensuring complete regulatory compliance & best business practices. AWT contributes more than Two Billion Rupees to the National Exchequer by way of taxes and generates 28,000 jobs for its employees. All credit goes to our excellent human resources, teamwork and focused leadership, which has created such an impact.
